

Supplementary Materials: Human Health Risk Assessment through Roasted Meats Consumption

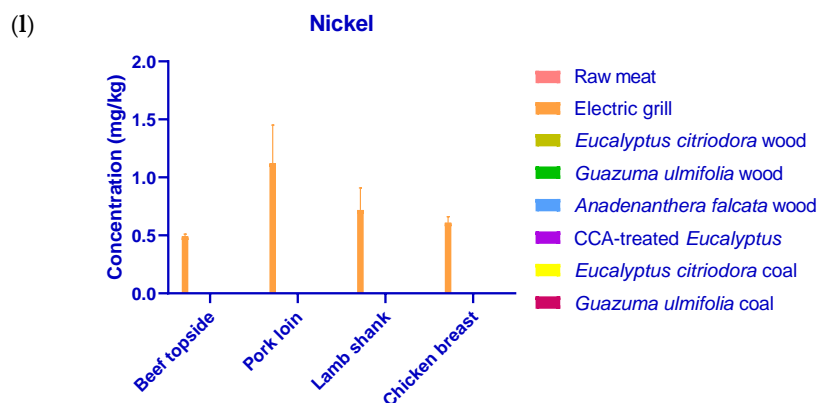

Figure S1. Comparison of mineral concentration in raw and roasted beef, pork, lamb and chicken using different fuels. (a) Aluminum, (b) Arsenium, (c) Chromium, (d) Copper, (e) Iron, (f) Magnesium, (g) Manganese, (h) Molybdenum, (i) Vanadium, (j) Zinc, (k) Cadmium, (l) Nickel.

© 2020 by the authors. Submitted for possible open access publication under the terms and conditions of the Creative Commons Attribution (CC BY) license (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>).