Aims and Scope

Animals (ISSN 2076-2615) publishes original research articles, reviews, communications, and short notes that are relevant to any field of study that involves animals, including zoology, ethnozoology, animal science, animal ethics and animal welfare. Our aim is to encourage scientists to publish their experimental and theoretical research in as much detail as possible. Full experimental details and/or method of study, necessary ethical approval must be provided for research articles.

The Primary Areas of Animals include:

- Animal science
- Human and animal interactions
- Animal management and welfare science
- Animals and society
