Message from the Editor-in-Chief

We invite you to read a selection of recent articles published in Children (ISSN 2227-9067) and to consider publishing your next paper with us. Children is an international, open access journal established in 2012. The journal is dedicated to the streamlined, yet scientifically rigorous, dissemination of peer-reviewed science that is related to childhood health and disease, in both developed and developing countries. The publication focuses on sharing clinical, epidemiological, translational, and basic science research relevant to children's health. In addition to original research, the journal publishes expert editorials and commentaries, clinical case reports, and insightful rapid communications that are reflective of the latest developments in pediatric medicine.

Author Benefits

-  Open Access Unlimited and free access for readers
-  No Copyright Constraints Retain copyright of your work and free use of your article
-  Thorough Peer-Review
-  Coverage by Leading Indexing Services ESCI-Emerging Sources Citation Index (Clarivate Analytics) and Pubmed (NLM)
-  Discounts on Article Processing Charges (APC) If you belong to an institute that participates with the MDPI Institutional Open Access Program (IOAP)

Aims and Scope

Children is an open access journal that provides a fast editorial process, including rigorous peer review, and supports fair and ethical research in the field of pediatrics. We promote reproducibility and therefore encourage scientists to publish their work in as much detail as possible, without restriction on the length of papers or use of color illustrations.

Topics for Children include, but are not limited to:

- General pediatrics and pediatric subspecialties
- Global health
- Ethics
- Health service and health policy research
- Pediatric
- Hospital medicine
- Public health and epidemiology
